

KARUNANJALI, TALEGAON

Children with disabilities are precious creations of God, our Creator. He calls us to make His love, mercy, and compassion visible through our care and service to them. This was the spirit that inspired our Founders, Carlo and Giulia di Barolo, when they established the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Ann of Providence 175 years ago.

As a gesture of gratitude for their vision and generosity, and to commemorate the 175th anniversary of the foundation of our Institute, a centre for children with disabilities was opened during the Jubilee Year. It initially functioned as a day-care centre. In 2010, it developed into a residential school in a separate facility at Talegaon-Dabhade. The institution was named ‘‘Karunanjali,’’ meaning ‘‘an offering of compassion.’’

Since its inception, Karunanjali has borne abundant fruit through its dedicated service to children with disabilities. The school provides a joyful and stimulating learning environment, nurturing each child’s abilities, promoting their overall development, and creating opportunities for their inclusion in society.

Today, Karunanjali lovingly cares for 30 children with disabilities, offering each one individual attention, encouragement, and compassionate support. Through this mission, the Sisters strive to uphold the dignity of every child and help them grow in confidence, independence, and a sense of belonging.
