

ST. ANN'S CONVENT, HUBBALLI

St. Ann's Convent in Hubballi was established in 2002, marking the beginning of the Sisters' educational mission in the city. The journey, however, was not without challenges. The community began its mission in a rented house, starting a Nursery with just six children.

Over the years, the school grew steadily, and its enrolment reached approximately 1,500 students. However, in 2013, the airport authorities issued a notice directing the Sisters to vacate the land on which the school stood. Consequently, the school had to be temporarily shifted to another campus while a new school building was constructed at a different site. The entire process of relocating the school and establishing it at the new location involved considerable difficulties, demanding great effort, perseverance, and dedication from the Sisters.

Although the present location is relatively far from the city and poses challenges for children in reaching the school, many parents continue to place their trust in the quality of education and the values imparted by the Sisters. With unwavering commitment and faith in God's providence, the Sisters continue to carry forward their educational mission, offering quality, value-based education and serving the children with dedication and hope.
